

Health Insurance

MYTHS

I am young and healthy, therefore I don't need health coverage.

Pregnancy is not covered under health insurance

I don't need to declare my pre-existing conditions

My insurance will pay for the entire treatment bill

All employer offered health coverage is insufficient and are tailored to the staff average

VS.

FACTS

Age is irrelevant to health maintenance. You need routine wellness checkups, Rx/emergency coverage, and a constant safety net

Health Insurance offers pregnancy and maternity coverage, but can be subject to certain constraints

Be honest and knowledgeable when it comes to your medical history. This will help mitigate the risk of losing coverage after the waiting period ends

% of claim coverage is dependent on the policy. Hospital and medicine can be prone to partial reimbursement (cap or sub-limits apply).

With SureCo and Enrollme, you can have the freedom to choose the right plan for your needs.
